The Riva-built 85' 4" (26m) motor yacht WHATEVER built in 2011 by the notable Italian shipyard, WHATEVER features an eye-catching silver bullet exterior with sleek and sporty lines, complemented by a rapid top speed of 38 knots. It's also one of the few yachts on the Greek charter market in its size range with both zero speed and underway stabilisers.

The Riva 86 Domino's blistering top speeds are matched by an equally impressive cruising speed of 30 knots, with a lightweight GRP planing hull for extra maneuverability. Accommodating eight guests in four cabins, including a full-beam master with en suite and sit-down shower, the cream and grey interior with light wood finishes creates an inviting contemporary interior for socializing in style. Two further cabins are located amidships, with a large VIP forward.

Built to enjoy the great outdoors, WHATEVER's flybridge is a haven for sun worshippers with sunpads for relaxing and alfresco dining area for eight. Further sunpads are found on the foredeck with a second, more intimate, al fresco dining area. Carrying a raft of water toys, including a jet ski, SeaBob, paddle boards, water skis and wakeboard, WHATEVER is an idea vessel on which to enjoy a memorable Mediterranean charter.
